BACKGROUND

IMPORTANT: Please register directly on the course website: http://unccelearn.org/

This short course is one out of a series of four courses. The course series will support participants in understanding how to lead on climate change and in the context of their work. The courses are designed to support governments and their institutions in learning how to lead on climate change in the context of their work. The series is developed in close collaboration with UNCC:Learn Partnership, UNDP, Swedish Development Cooperation (SIDA).

The course is designed by Kit Nicholson, Department of Climate Change and Development Cooperation.

CONTENT AND STRUCTURE

The course includes a combination of different learning activities, which may include case studies, short video clips, quizzes, and a final peer-evaluation. The learning activities are designed to ensure that participants are engaged and that the content is covered in an interactive way. The course is self-paced and can be completed in 1 day.
TARGETED AUDIENCE

The presentation of this article is intended to be a dialogue between the audience and the topic. The audience is expected to engage in discussions and debates on the issues raised in the presentation. The audience is encouraged to participate actively in the discussion and to发表 their opinions and perspectives.
