OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVES

“Leading with Ethics in Achieving the SDGs” is an online course that will assist decision-makers in fostering the character traits and developing the durable skills necessary for SDG Leadership. The programme will be delivered using state of the art e-learning methodologies. It is designed to enable participants to understand and apply the ethical principles and values that underpin leadership and management, to enhance ethical decision-making in a global context, and to manage ethical dilemmas and conflicts related to the achievement of the SDGs.

Participants will engage in oral and written presentations to explore techniques used by ethical leaders and seminal leadership scholars to prepare participants to handle various ethical issues, to develop leadership and management skills, and to foster a culture of integrity and accountability within organizations. The programme will focus on team leadership, transdisciplinary leadership, and other forms of shared leadership in the 21st century.

In accordance with the 2030 Agenda and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs)
